THREE PRISONERS SAW OUT OF RUSH COUNTY JAIL AND ESCAPE

Oliver O. Jones, Ex-Cashier of Arlington Bank, Obediah F. Bowman, the Carthage "Chadwick" and Italian Burglar Are Missing

Men Had Secured Saws or Files in Some Way and Removed Two Bars From a Window on Second Floor, Sliding Down a Rope Made of Blankets.

About six o'clock this morning as John Finley, rural mail carrier, went to the pump on the west side of the jail, corner of First and Perkins streets, he noticed two ropes, made of blankets, hanging from a barred window to the second floor, near the southwest corner of the jail. He at once notified Sheriff Bainbridge and the two went to investigate.

Two bars had been removed from the lower half of the window. These had been cut with a saw or file and carefully lifted out and laid on the floor of the corridor behind a gas pipe. A newspaper lay in the corridor. A large hole, some sixteen inches in diameter had been made in the wire screen which covered the window. The hole cut in the bars was about fourteen inches square. A blanket had been rolled tightly and then bound with a cord, forming a rope about two inches in diameter. This had been fastened to a bar and the escaped prisoners, after squeezing through the hole, had lowered themselves to the ground by sliding down the blanket.

Three prisoners, the only male prisoners on the second floor were missing. These were Oliver O. Jones, of Pendleton, Ind., who was cashier of the old Arlington bank at the time it failed, Obediah F. Bowman, late manager of the Carthage canning factory, and Takuhirs Tomeris, an Italian.

Jones was arrested on Saturday July 8th in Bliss, Swain & Company's clothing store at Indianapolis by Indianapolis city detectives on the charge of accepting a deposit from Edwin Addison, of Arlington, knowing at the time that his bank was insolvent. He waived preliminary examination that night in Squire Ball's court at Arlington, and failing to get bail he was placed in jail. His bond was reduced one-half by Judge Sparks of the circuit court, but Jones was still unable to give bond, so remained in jail. His relatives refused to come to his aid. Stevens & Nipp and Watson, Tittsworth & Green were his attorneys. His case, together with the transactions of the Arlington bank, will be laid before the grand jury when it convenes next week. Jones is a handsome young man, smooth shaven, with blue-gray eyes and light curly hair. He often attended many social functions in this city. Jones is thought to have worn a brown suit at the time of his unexpected departure from the jail. He occupied a cell in the south-west corner of the inclosure, but was allowed the privilege of the corridors with the other two men. Jones left two letters, one addressed to Sheriff Bainbridge and the other to the Editor of the Republican. His letter to the Republican is as follows:

To the Editor of the Republican:

The steps that I have taken have been very hard to do and I have been slow to act.

Not so much for the sake of myself do I go, but for the many people at Arlington who had the confidence in me to deposit their earnings in the Arlington bank, of which I was cashier.

Knowing too, and so does every one else, except a very few, that I had been made the catch ball, for and between factions at Arlington. These few parties, thinking that by my arrest some of my relatives would come to my assistance. This they did not do and neither have I friends as it seems who were willing to go on my bond, their reasons for not doing so being on account of none of my relatives doing anything. And their actions in that I do not censure them for.

The opportunity presented itself so I have not gone far away and will not be hard to locate. But I sincerely hope that every one can realize that my liberty is justifiable in bringing about that which is most desirable to all. With the future that is before me I can assure everyone that I will return to Arlington and Rushville to meet the demands that have been so unfortunate for me to bear. Sacrificing myself to act thus, for the purpose of fulfilling my promise to every depositor of the old Arlington bank.

Thanking the many friends for the sympathizing words and favors given me during my imprisonment in jail, I am sincerely,

OLIVER O. JONES.

Bowman was awaiting trial on an indictment returned last February by the grand jury, charging him with embezzling $1500 from Schnull & Company, of Indianapolis, a wholesale grocery firm. Schnull & Company allege that at the time Bowman was manager of the Carthage canning factory he never shipped the goods ordered by them and paid for in advance. Bowman is said to have swindled several Carthage citizens out of several thousand dollars while he lived there.

On Thursday he received word that his wife, who is an invalid, was dying at the home of a relative in Red Key, Ind., and he is supposed to have gone there. His attorneys, Watson, Tittsworth & Green, to whom he addressed a letter before he left, expect him to return. Steps have been taken to have him arrested should he appear at Red Key. Bowman was arrested on the street at Muncie on Monday, March 20th, and brought to this city. He failed to secure bail and spent five months in jail. He has a very pale complexion, has brown hair, wore sideburns and a light mustache. He is thought to have worn a light pair of pants, a dark coat and a dark hat at the time of his escape from jail. Bowman left two notes one for Sheriff Bainbridge and one for his attorneys. The one addressed to the Sheriff is as follows:

Rushville, Ind., Sept. 1st, 1905.

Mr. and Mrs. Bainbridge:

Dear friends:—I leave here a letter for my attorneys which please give to them, which will explain all, and also a letter addressed to my dear wife that you may mail to her at once. I leave the last two cents I have to mail it. Had others given me the kindness you have shown me, I could have been home with her. But all I get is promise, and as I have no money I get nothing as promised, and knowing as I do that my invalid wife is and has been depending on charity for the last five months, is too much for me to stand. Mr. Bainbridge, for I have a good wife, and for her to suffer this way all uncared for, I can't see it. So as I have an invitation and opportunity tonight to leave and get money for bond and care for Mrs. Bowman, I have resolved to go and arrange matters so that she can be cared for and it shall be success or death, for I can't stand to see her treated this way any longer. And if given my liberty a few days I can get it arranged and will be back here to arrange bond with the cash and not depend on promises any longer from parties that I have helped in the past. So please mail my letter to Mrs. Bowman at once, and if every thing is favorable I will be back here in a few days. Thanking you for your kindness I am as ever very truly,

O. F. BOWMAN.

The Italian could not speak a word of English. He left nothing and made haste to get away. He is rather heavy set, dark skinned with a small light mustache and closely cropped light hair. At the time he left the jail he wore a comparatively new suit of clothes. He was caught red-handed, robbing the home of Hugh Birt, north of Arlington on the afternoon of Saturday, June 24th. His case was to have been taken up by the grand jury this month.

How the men secured the implements with which they cut their way out is a mystery. Wednesday a strange woman visited Jones at the jail and several people, including some strangers have visited him several times. The whole affair is believed to have been of his making with Bowman as his closest ally. Just what time the men made their way out is not known. In order to get out it was necessary to saw through the bars four times. Some are of the opinion that this could have been done within an hour. Others declare that it would take several hours to do the work and to do it without being heard. Mrs. Anna Bankert, who is imprisoned on the same floor with the men, but in another apartment, says that all the doors and windows on the men's side were kept tightly closed all day Friday. It is believed that the men sawed out the bars on that day, working behind a newspaper spread across the bars and screen, the screen being outside the bars. The men left nothing behind to show how they cut their way out. The saws, files, or whatever they used were taken along. Each man had taken sufficient clothing with him. Nothing was left in the cells beyond Jones' slippers, his shaving mug, a box addressed to Stevens & Nipp and one or two old hats.

It is not known whether the men had an accomplice on the outside or not. It is supposed, however, that they had. Friday afternoon a buggy stood all day at the public hitch-rack in the rear of the jail. A strange man was seen hanging about the jail all afternoon. At one time he was seen standing against the east wall of Wm. Brown's blacksmith shop just west of the jail, gazing intently toward the upstairs windows.

About 3:00 o'clock this morning a man who was imprisoned on the lower floor of the jail, heard a buggy and horse drive around the corner at the jail and go west at a gallop. It is believed that the buggy which stood at the hitch-rack was brought here and left for Jones and his confederates by the man who was seen hanging about the jail.

The men were model prisoners and were allowed the privilege of the corridors solely that they might have more room in which to exercise.

Sheriff Bainbridge deeply regrets that the men escaped and he is making every effort to re-capture them. The men are believed to have separated at some other town. Telegrams have been sent to the police in all of the surrounding cities and towns asking that they be on the lookout for the men. They are believed to have either gone south or southwest. At 4 o'clock this afternoon no word had been received concerning the escaped prisoners.

This is the second jail delivery since the new jail was built. The first occurred while William Price was sheriff. At that time three hoboes walked out the doors after securing the keys. One of them was afterward re-captured at Connersville.

A SUICIDE AT FOUNTAINTOWN

George Williams, Despondent, Hangs Himself in His Barn.

George Williams, fifty years old and a resident of Fountaintown, committed suicide Friday morning between 3:30 and 4 o'clock by hanging himself in his barn.

Mr. Williams was in the house moving business, and had the contract for moving a big house, but was very despondent, seemingly in regard to the contract and Thursday night did not sleep, and threatened several times during the night to kill himself. His wife had been awake all night watching him until about three o'clock when she fell asleep and Mr. Williams took advantage of the opportunity to go to the barn and hang himself. Mrs. Williams awoke about five o'clock and found him. He had been dead an hour or more.

THE BIG FAIR IS NOW OVER

Last Day of Fair Sees Another Big Crowd and Good Races.

The Fair Has Been a Big Success—Exhibits Are Nearly All Gone.

The Forty-ninth Annual Rush County Fair came to a close on Friday evening after a most successful week. Another large crowd estimated at 6000 people attended on Friday. The weather was ideal throughout the entire week which contributed greatly to the success of the fair.

At noon the big parade, one of the finest in the history of the fair association, was given in the cattle ring. It was witnessed by an immense throng of people.

Among the awards made yesterday were those on roadsters, light harness horses and double teams, farm implements, vehicles, hardware and leather work.

Interest in Friday's races were centered largely in the 2:25 pace. This race was won by Queen D. in three straight heats, with Sallie A. second, Piney B. third and Last Chance fourth.

In the 2:50 trot there were only three starters, but each heat was a close and interesting one. Lydia C., by Onward, driven by Burgess, won the last three heats and the race. Vinango, owned by J. A. Quay and driven by Scott Branam, took second money, and Jersey Boy, third.

In the Dick Wilson Patchen Boy, Special, there were only two starters. Each colt won a heat and the race was declared off, on account of Miss Patchen going lame. Miss Patchen secured a mark of 2:29½ and Bon Patchen, one of 2:24½.

At three o'clock those who had exhibits at the fair began taking them away and by 5 o'clock the grounds appeared very dilapidated. Many people remained until late and the stands remaining did a big business. Nearly everything that was not removed yesterday was removed today so that the fair grounds at present appear forsaken.

Secretary King and his assistants, Missina Ford and M. V. Spivey were kept busy yesterday and today settling with exhibitors and others who assisted in making the fair a success.

Fair Notes.

Prof. Ed. Young, the aeronaut, did not attempt an ascension Friday.

In the 2:30 trot on Wednesday Clell Maple went Wanna West, drove the fastest heat ever trotted upon the fair ground track. The time was 2:19½.

King and Queen, the big diving horses, gave two more exhibitions Friday afternoon at 1:30 and 3:30 o'clock. Queen dived twice in succession during the first performance.

Kid Griffo gave another high dive from the King and Queen scaffold Friday afternoon.

Starter Moody, in behalf of the fair association thanked the people from the judges' stand Friday afternoon for their patronage and aid in making the fair a success.

Among the displays in agricultural implements, Amos Winship probably had the largest. Messrs. Barnard, for Superior Drill company and Johnson of International, Durand for 20th Century manure spreader, Mr. Christman with buggy display, all diligent and busy looking after and explaining merits of their different lines, but probably the busiest man was Ad. V. Spivey, of this city, who had in charge the A. Buch & Sons Company's goods. From early morn until late at night, he was answering questions pertaining to the merits of the steel lawn swing, the various positions it could be used, and all during the day crowds awaited their turn to try it. It is something new and attracted much favorable comment as did the rivetless steel hog trough, manufactured by this firm. The hog trough is made without rivet or solder joint. Their closed-end roller and roller bearing corn shellers all attracted much attention and probably Ad Spivey has answered more questions than any man on the fair ground, and it is safe to say no better line of goods were ever displayed on the Rushville fair ground.

STATE NEWS

FROM POST TO PILLAR

Pathetic Situation of Aged Wanderer, a Man Without a County.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 2.—James Flynn, age 84 years, is an example of the method of keeping impoverished non-residents moving from county to county. At the police station he asked for a night's lodging. "I wish the authorities of this city would send me to the poor house and let me rest until I die." He has no known relatives and has not been able to remain in any one county long enough to establish a residence and be entitled to admittance to a poor farm. Whenever he has applied for admittance the authorities of that county instead have given him transportation to another county. This, he says, has been his lot for ten years. He is virtually a man without a county.

Says It Was an Accident.

Anderson, Ind., Sept. 2.—On information from her neighbors that Mrs. Catharine Shockey had been shot in the arm at her home, officers went there and arrested her 17-year-old son, Philip Shockey, and sent him to jail pending further investigation. Young Shockey admitted he shot his mother, but said he did it accidentally while handling a revolver. After an official inquiry the youth was given his liberty.

He Preferred Death.

Salem, Ind., Sept. 2.—Frank Wright committed suicide at his home here by shooting himself through the head with a revolver. A few years ago he fell into a well and broke his back and has been a helpless invalid ever since. He slept with a revolver under his pillow. The county authorities were preparing to take him to the poor asylum and he did not want to go. He was about 40 years of age.

Mrs. Hale Under Detention.

Valparaiso, Ind., Sept. 2.—Mrs. Mayme Hale, wife of the victim of Tuesday's tragedy, was taken in charge by Sheriff Green and is now occupying apartments in his residence, though not under arrest. The coroner and officers believe she knows something of the details of her husband's death.

Kicked to Death by Horse.

Union City, Ind., Sept. 2.—Clement Hinkle, 20 years old, a young giant of near this city, slapped a horse while watering him to make him "stand over," when the animal kicked him and crushed his skull. He died in a short time.

Foul Play Feared.

Muncie, Ind., Sept. 2.—Cornelius Price, a wealthy farmer living west of Muncie, came to Muncie a few days ago, drew $500 from a bank and has disappeared. Relatives fear that he has met with foul play.

Hiding Place Revealed.

Harmony, Ind., Sept. 2.—After hiding in the woods for a week William Dickens, said to be the assailant of Frank Lawson here Sunday, has been arrested. He claims self defense.

Found the Body.

Richmond, Ind., Sept. 2.—The body of William Thomas, prominent lodge man, missing since last Monday, was found yesterday, north of the city. He shot himself.

Both Expected to Die.

Madison, Ind., Sept. 2.—Charles Rowsey and Benjamin Graham, who were shot by George Dittgen at Camp Joe Wheeler, are both worse and are expected to die.

The salary of the new president of the Equitable Assurance Society has been reduced from $100,000 to $80,000 a year. It is still about $55,000 too large.

FORMAL TREATY IS COMPLETED

Sakhalin However is Again Giving Peace Plenipotentiaries Trouble.

Russia Understands That She May Fortify the Island; the Japs Hold Contrary View

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 2.—Mr. De Martens and Mr. Dennison, the framers of the treaty of Portsmouth, expect to complete their work today. The treaty must then be engrossed in French and English in duplicate which may take several days. It now seems probable that the framers will be able to confine the treaty to fourteen articles instead of fifteen as was the original plan.

The effect of the armistice concluded yesterday is that it becomes operative only upon the signature of the treaty by the plenipotentiaries and continues until the final ratification of the emperors of the two countries. It is for this reason that the plenipotentiaries who will themselves convey to their respective capitals the momentous document which to become binding must receive the signatures of their respective emperors, are anxious to leave at the earliest possible date, foregoing the innumerable invitations which have been showered upon them.

The only possible hitch on the horizon of the peace conference, according to reports current here, which, however, are not officially confirmed, arises out of an evident misunderstanding over the question of the neutralization of the island of Sakhalin. According to the Japanese understanding reached on Tuesday, the agreement contemplated a mutual obligation on the part of the two countries not to fortify their respective possessions on the island. At St. Petersburg, however, there seems to have been an assumption that the agreement involved freedom of action upon the part of Russian in this respect in the north of Sakhalin, with an obligation on the part of the Japanese not to fortify or use for strategic purposes the portion owned by her before 1876, which is to be retroceded in the present treaty. It is expected on both sides, however, that the hitch if it really exists as reported, will shortly be straightened out. Cable communication between Baron Komura and his government was interrupted for the greater part of Friday, but a message is said to have been received late last night. It is understood to be the present intention of the Tokio government not to make publication of peace until the treaty has been signed and exchanged. The official explanation is that this is the "regular diplomatic method of procedure," but among the Japanese correspondents considerable suspicion has been aroused by the fact that until now their cablegrams giving the terms of peace have not passed the censor. They do not hesitate to say that the government is anxious about the effect on public opinion when it becomes known that Japan waived her demand for indemnity to obtain peace.

WOMAN FALLS UNDER TRAIN

Unknown Negro Woman Has a Narrow Escape at the County Fair Grounds.

An unknown negro woman had a very narrow escape from death at the fair grounds Friday evening when she stumbled and fell under the C., H. D. train which was hauling passengers between the fair ground and this city. The train had just started for this city when the woman jumped on to the step. It seems that she was pushed off by some one and she fell across the rails. For some unknown reason the train stopped long enough to enable some one to rescue the passenger and thus save her life.

GOOD OUTLOOK

New Castle Manufacturers and Business Men Anticipating Big Business.

With the coming of fall, manufacturing concerns and industrial houses usually expect that business will take on a brighter aspect than that which prevailed during the summer months, but it has been years since every indication in the manufacturing world gave brighter promise than at present. With unusually strong summer markets, the various industries in Rushville are anticipating extraordinary fall markets and manufacturers and workmen alike are looking forward to an unprecedented season of prosperity.

I. & C. FILES SUIT AGAINST WILES

Trouble Over Right of Way Ends in Condemnation Proceedings.

Through their attorneys, Cambern, Florea & Broadus, the I. C. Traction company brought condemnation proceedings in the Fayette circuit court Friday against Joseph Wiles et al., of Fairview township, Fayette county. The suit was brought out of difficulties in getting a right-of-way through the Wiles farm, which is located near Glenwood and as it is understood, the price held on the land was very high. However, the proceedings, it is said, will not interfere with the extensive operations that are about to begin in that section, and it is thought that some settlement will be soon reached in the difficulty.

THE RAILROAD COMMISSION

Will Visit This City to View the Scene of the Recent Wreck.

In an effort to do away with future danger of railroad crossing wrecks in Rushville, members of the State railroad commission will visit this city next Tuesday for a public investigation. The action was brought about by the recent wreck at the crossing of the C., H. & D. and J. M. & L., in which the railroad station was demolished, several people hurt and other damage done. There are three unprotected crossings in Rushville that will be looked after by the commission. The one mentioned above, the crossing of the C., H. & D. with the Big Four, and the crossing of the J. M. & L. with the Big Four.

The commission has been informed that none of the three crossings has any sort of safety device to guard against collisions. Of the four railroads in Rushville, the L. E. & W. and the Big Four go through the city on the same track, leaving three tracks. These three tracks have three crossings among them, no one of which is protected. As the railroad commission has the power to compel the placing of interlocking devices when deemed necessary, it is thought that this action will be taken.

FEAR TREASON IN CAMP.

Indianapolis Democrats in Fear and Trembling Watch Taggart.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 2.—There is considerable speculation here just now as to what attitude National Chairman Taggart and his lieutenants will take in the local campaign. As a matter of course they will declare themselves for Mayor Holtzman's reelection. They will be for him openly, but, to quote a now famous expression of one of the old-time Indiana Republican politicians, what the followers of Holtzman want to know is whether or not they will be "fer" him. There is considerable difference in being for and being "fer" anyone and just now there is much anxiety among Mayor Holtzman's friends as to whether it is to be for or "fer." It has been no secret here for a long time that many of Taggart's lieutenants have never liked the present Democratic leaders and that they were only lukewarm in the last campaign. They are being watched now, for their course will have a great deal to do in determining the result of the battle between Holtzman and Bookwalter.

A report has been completed by State Statistician Stubbs showing that 540,112 residents of Indiana are depositors in banks or trust companies. The report is the first one of the kind prepared in Indiana. There are 683 financial institutions divided as follows: National banks, 184; state banks, 175 private banks, 260; trust companies and savings banks, 64. There are 110 incorporated towns that have no banks. The total liabilities of all the institutions are $268,278,172.07. The deposits amount to $201,624,504.02, or about $70 for each man, woman and child in the state. Of the total resources the loans and discounts amount to $146,004,050.05. Last year these institutions paid the state $762,969.00 in taxes and employed 3,013 people. The resources of the national banks amounted to $146,554,652.25; the deposits amounted to $105,175,727.55; circulating notes $13,407,546.53; undivided profits, $2,493,986.06; surplus $6,749,954.49. The liabilities and resources of the private banks amounted to $37,275,220.01; state banks, $40,140,496.72; savings banks and trust companies, $44,307,893.09.

Speaker Cannon is the guest of his friend and protégé Senator James A. Hemenway, at Boonville. Incidentally he is attending the Warrick county fair there this week. The Warrick county fair association is the only one in the state, by the way, that can boast of entertaining such a distinguished personage as the speaker of the national house of representatives as well as a United States senator. Speaker Cannon is right at home with the people of Warrick county, as he frequently visits Senator Hemenway and in every state and national campaign for many years he has made speeches throughout the first district which is not far from his home in Danville, Ill. He is quoted as saying that it is too hot now to talk politics. He may remain in Indiana until the first of next week. It is understood that Senator Hemenway expects to move to Washington the latter part of the month.

Oscar Hadley, of Danville, candidate for the Republican nomination for treasurer of state is setting a rapid pace for his opponents although he is a new man in the race. All of the candidates except Hadley and Jonce Monahan, of Orleans, had a work out three years ago when Nat U. Hill was nominated. Monahan has been building his fences for three years and is a hard worker, but Hadley seems to be going so rapidly that he is causing no end of worry among the friends of the other candidates. He was here today and stated that he feels pretty good over the situation so far as he is concerned. He will probably soon be known as the Quaker candidate, as he comes from a Quaker neighborhood in Hendricks county.

THE STATE OF TRADE. Business in All Lines Marked by Unusual Activity.

New York, Sept. 2.—Bradstreet's weekly review of trade today says: September buying opens with fall buying apparently at a maximum, marked activity in all lines of industry, liberal buying by railroads of rails and supplies, currency shipments to the country to move crops increasing and with confidence as to the outlook for trade previously noted strengthened by the successful issue of the Russo-Japanese peace negotiations. These latter, jointly with the increased pressure of supplies of agricultural products at leading markets have had a distinct effect upon many commodity values, the tendency being toward a lower level in cotton, live animals, potatoes and butter. It is to be noted, however, that home products are strong and higher on the week.

No Trace of Martin. Muncie, Ind., Sept. 2.—Nothing has been heard from Ralph Martin, the young telegraph operator who mysteriously disappeared from his home in this city six weeks ago. The young man had considerable money. His mother has sought the aid of the police in the cities of this and various other states.

Yellow Jack at New York. New York, Sept. 2.—Henry R. Wardell, an American employed by the Panama railroad as a boilermaker, is seriously ill with yellow fever in the quarantine hospital in Swineburn Island. Wardell arrived in New York Thursday as a first cabin passenger on the Panama railroad steamer Havana from Colon.

Extensive Fraud Alleged. Chicago, Sept. 2.—George E. Davenport, said by the post office inspectors of Cincinnati to be a swindler, is under arrest here. It is claimed by the federal authorities that Davenport has swindled many business men and farmers in various parts of the middle west during the last two years. His method of operations, it is declared by the officers to have been to sell woollens and silks, and then to get the man who purchased it to send it to a branch house, which Davenport claimed to have, to be made into garments. The purchaser would never see his goods again.

Dog Causes Mix-Up. Cincinnati, O., Sept. 2.—A dog running across the track as the horses were turning into the stretch in the last race came near causing a fatal accident at Latonia yesterday. Doctor Karth with J. Hicks up, went down and Henry Morn with Williams in the saddle stumbled over him. Both boys, however, escaped injury.

Several Changes Promised. Panama, Sept. 2.—Carl A. Strom, chief of the mechanical department of the canal zone, has resigned. It is reported that several changes will soon be made among the officials of the Panama railroad.

He is Done With Japan. Cleveland, O., Sept. 2.—Disappointed because the Japanese government renounced all indemnity in the peace settlement and did not insist on greater territorial acquisitions from Russia, Sinosuke Kitani, Cleveland's leading Japanese merchant has renounced his allegiance to the Mikado by taking out his first naturalization papers. Similar action on the part of his countrymen is said to be also contemplated, as they believe their country showed weakness.

NO FEAR OF EPIDEMIC

Eminent Berlin Health Authority Says Ample Measures Are at Work to Protect Europe.

Organization Quite Adequate to Grasp Beginnings of Cholera and Put it Down.

Berlin, Sept. 2.—Forty-three cases of cholera in all have been reported. Nine persons have died from the disease and many suspicious cases are under observation. The legal and medical machinery for dealing with this invasion of the Asiatic bacillus is now working with full pressure.

Prof. Edward Sonnenburg declares that no one need fear an epidemic such as that of 1892-93 because the health authorities since that time had built up an organization quite adequate to grasp the beginnings of cholera and to put down the disease with precision and firmness.

The health machinery to which Prof. Sonnenburg alluded is working in co-operation with the police and other public services. With the exception of the one death at Hamburg the cholera is confined to the West Prussian districts and every case of illness in these districts must be immediately reported to the authorities. An experienced physician and bacteriologist at once takes the case under observation and if the symptoms are suspicious the person is promptly isolated.

The state has now detained under medical observation nearly 1,000 persons, including emigrants at Brunsdaven. Cautions and warnings have been distributed and these have led to spontaneous and intelligent co-operation with the sanitary officers. If the same agencies and the same spirit were at work beyond the Russian frontier, the Prussian health authorities would feel satisfied with what is being done. A doubt, almost amounting to conviction, exists that the Russian administration has not yet been aroused to the danger, and that its task of dealing with the problem is much more difficult than that which confronts the authorities here.

BATTLE WITH SCOURGE.

Concerted Effort to Keep Cholera From Our Shores.

New York, Aug. 2.—That extra precautions shall be taken to prevent bringing in a case of cholera among immigrants from German ports was agreed at a conference between Health Officer A. H. Doty of this port and the representatives of several trans-Atlantic steamship companies. The plan is said to exercise great care in taking the immigrants on board ship in German ports. The discovery of a case of cholera in Hamburg was the cause of the conference. Dr. Doty said after the conference that he had no reason to think that cholera would get to New York, considering all the precautions being taken. He said: "There was a case of cholera in Hamburg. It was promptly discovered and speedily taken care of by the authorities. No other case has been located there, and it is the belief that there are no others. Nevertheless precautions must be taken. I had a talk with the captains of several of the steamship companies and submitted to them a plan which they accepted. I do not care to say what it was."

May Spoil Big Parade.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Prospects for holding a successful labor day parade received another blow when union musicians informed the Chicago Federation of Labor that they would withdraw from the line of march rather than play with men who wore uniforms other than those adopted by the Chicago Federation of Musicians.

The decision of the musicians threatens to result not only in a lack of music, but also in the withdrawal of a number of trade organizations.

A CLEAR STATEMENT.

Charles F. Pfister Sets at Rest Insinuations Against Him.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 2.—Charles F. Pfister, the capitalist who was indicted three weeks ago by the grand jury on the charge of having stolen $14,000 which had been placed in his hands by the Wisconsin Rendering Company, made public today a statement showing the manner in which the $25,000 which he held for the company was disbursed. After the indictment was returned the president of the rendering company denied that Mr. Pfister had misappropriated any of its money and since then the company has made full payment on notes held against it by Mr. Pfister, without offering any counter claim. The insinuation, however, has been circulated that the money, if not misappropriated, was used for corrupt purposes by Mr. Pfister. The statement now issued is corroborated by the bank record showing Mr. Pfister's personal account, by a statement signed by President F. C. Gross, Joseph Schaff and Louis Schoyer of the Wisconsin Rendering Company, and also by a statement signed by John J. Crilly, the contractor to whom most of the money was paid. None of this money, Crilly states, was used for unlawful purposes.

These payments show conclusively that Mr. Pfister did not steal any of the Rendering Company's money and also that he did not use any of it in an improper manner.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—The most severe storm of the year raged for two hours last evening. The wind blew forty miles an hour and nearly two inches of rain fell. The thunder and lightning were terrific and several of the large office buildings were struck. Several fires were started by the lightning in the outskirts of the city. In the parks and suburbs much more damage was done, many trees being leveled and sheds and outhouses blown down.

Woman Crushed at Bargain Sale.

It is the general opinion that there is no foundation in the joke about women and bargain counters, but the following account clipped from an Indianapolis paper tells of a bargain counter sale in that city:

In a mad rush for a sale of granite ware several hundred women were stampeded on Washington street and in the store where the sale was to occur Monday. One woman fainted, but the prompt arrival of a large squad of police, under Capt. Shafer, prevented many from being seriously injured.

Nearly 1000 women, some with babies in their arms or leading small children, gathered within and just outside of the store long before opening time. When the doors were opened clothing was torn, women screamed and Miss Grace Bridgewater, North Addison street, fainted. When the police arrived she was taken to a private office and soon revived. A squad of detectives and patrolmen soon got the crowd under control and closed the store until they had gotten away. The sale discontinued immediately.

Exhibit of Machinery at the State Fair.

Farmers over the State who attend the Indiana State Fair have given much of their attention to the exhibits of machinery made by the leading manufacturers. In fact, the fair has through this department been of much help to the farmers who have sought machinery which would help to increase the output of a farm and at the same time reduce the labor. The machinery exhibit at the Indiana fair is rated by the manufacturers as one of the largest to be seen in America. It has been growing larger every year for the last ten years, and the displays long ago overflowed the space assigned by the State Board of Agriculture.

The show of machinery at the coming fair, which opens at Indianapolis on September 11th, will be bigger than ever. All the space which could be given the manufacturers was exhausted early in July, and those who have obtained space since then have had to be content with any little corners which the State Board might find on the grounds. The manufacturers of buggies will, if anything, have more vehicles at the fair than in any other year. The mechanical department will include every kind of contrivance which will reduce the hard work of a farm or dairy. The manufacturers who have been clamoring for exhibition space say that they find the Indiana State fair their best and most direct way of coming in contact with the farm people of the State, with farmers who are looking for the newest ideas along mechanical lines.

WORKING A MIRACLE.

Yellow Fever May Be Stamped Out Before Frost Comes.

New Orleans, Sept. 2.—New cases yesterday 39; total to date 1,958; deaths yesterday 4; total 281; new foci 10.

The fever record bears out the hopeful view of Dr. White and his fellow fever fighters that the worst is over and that if the citizens of New Orleans are watchful and continue to give the authorities the same co-operation they have in the last few weeks the miracle will be wrought of stamping out the fever before frost comes to lay low the last of the fugitive stegomyia. Contrary to all expectations, the fever is assuming a milder form at the period when it was expected to grow most deadly and the deaths have grown insignificant in number. That is true not only of New Orleans, but at the various points in Mississippi where the disease has appeared. In that state there have been about seventy cases to date and only one death. Wherever there has been a heavy death rate, as at Leesville, and on some of the plantations contiguous to New Orleans, it has been because the victims were Italians who either did not have or refused to accept medical attendance.

In carrying on the work here money has been expended with a lavish hand. More than a quarter of a million was appropriated, but even this amount does not represent by any means the total expenditures, for thousands of dollars have been expended by the volunteer ward organizations and many thousands by householders. Of the expenditure of money under the direction of the marine hospital service Dr. Warner said that not a penny has been distributed that has not resulted in lasting good to New Orleans. The question of national quarantine is looming larger every day as the fever spreads to the smaller towns and cities, injuring their business as it has that of New Orleans and bringing home to them the seriousness of irrational restrictions.

The police working with the marine hospital authorities continue to have trouble with the italians in the infected districts.

Keeping Up the Bluff.

London, Sept. 2.—The correspondent of the Morning Post at St. Petersburg asserts that the Russian government is making efforts to impress on the Shah of Persia that Russia is still a great military power. Some of the finest troops in the empire are now concentrated at St. Petersburg, according to the correspondent, who says that the police have ordered every household to display the Persian flag on the occasion of the Shah's arrival.

Tisn't So, Says Mr. Witte.

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 2.—Mr. Witte desires to state that the report of the interview with him published by the St. Petersburg Globe and telegraphed back to Europe and America is incorrect.

Gen. Kakhanoff Retired.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 2.—Gen. Kakhanoff, commander of the military district of Odessa has been placed on the retired list as the result of the disorders last June.

Sentenced for Life.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 2.—Frank Weekly and Tom Sherman, of Independence, Mo., were found guilty of murdering Pawnbroker Joseph Moyer in his shop here July 28, and sentenced to life imprisonment. They were arrested in Cleveland, O., Aug. 5, one week after the murder and part of the jewelry stolen from Moyer's shop was found on them.

Robbery by Wholesale.

New York, Sept. 2.—Jose Aymars' residence at 76 East 54th street has been plundered during the last week of jewelry, bric-a-brac, paintings, silver, etc., worth, it is alleged, more than $100,000. The family is in Canada.

The Time to Charge.

At the taking of Moscow while the troops sat in their saddles under a murderous fire Murat, Napoleon's dashing chief of cavalry, received a dispatch to which an answer was required. Though his mettlesome horse was trembling, Murat laid the reins upon the horn of the saddle, took his notebook in one hand and a pencil in the other and began to write a response. Suddenly a shell fell and exploded on the ground close by. The horse leaped into the air and swung wildly around. Murat simply transferred the pencil to the hand that held the notebook, calmed the horse with the other hand and then went on writing his dispatch as if nothing had happened. A shout of admiration went up along the line. Murat saw that the enthusiasm aroused by his trifling act had created a favorable moment for a charge. He gave the order, and his men swept clear through the enemy's line.

Wonderful Scenic Trip Across the Rocky Mountains to Oregon Exposition.

In certain respects the excursions to the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition, Portland, Oregon, via Pennsylvania Lines, beginning May 24th and continuing through the summer, offer advantages never before presented to Exposition visitors. The trip to the Oregon Exposition, in addition to the attractiveness of the extensive exhibits, includes the journey through the scenic wonderland of the Rocky Mountains and the Cascade Range, and what American has not looked forward from the days of the geography class in school to the time when those great sights should be seen in reality? The time was never so favorable as now. The trip may be made less expensively than ever. For only a slight difference in fare, tourists may extend their trip to San Francisco and Los Angeles. The return trip may be made over a different route, enabling travelers to view much more of the West. For full particulars, fares, dates of special excursions to Portland on account of Conventions, through time and passenger service apply to ticket agents of Pennsylvania Lines.

WEATHER REPORTS

They Save Money Despite the Fun Made of Them.

In spite of the standing joke about the weather man, it is probable that for every dollar spent on the weather bureau $10 are saved. At the time of the Mississippi flood of 1879, $15,000,000 worth of live stock and other valuable property were saved as a result of warnings issued a week ahead. Signals displayed for a single hurricane have detained in port vessels valued with cargoes at $200,000,00. The West Indian stations, established in 1898, informs us of hurricanes as soon as they begin. The course of the hurricane that caused the Galveston flood was charted for a week before it struck our shores—for hurricanes move slowly. Eighty-five per cent. of the forecasts now come true, and by the aid of rural free delivery, 25,000,000 forecast cards were distributed last year to farmers, many of whom could not have had them five years ago.

BETTER PEACHES

Quantity and Quality Are Good—There is Much Wild Carrot.

Peaches are more prolific in this vicinity this year than they have been recently. In the last ten years peaches did no good at all and the yield was never over a few to a tree. In the last three years, however, the peach crop has been better with each succeeding year. This year the fruit is large and hung in large clusters on the trees, even small seedlings being well filled. The improved conditions have induced planting of trees and under favorable conditions the next few years there will be double the number of trees there are now.

Farmers report a very profuse growth of the wild carrot. The weed is regarded by the farmers as more dangerous than the famed Canadian thistle. Cutting it has seemingly no effect in getting rid of the pest and it is necessary to pull it bodily from the ground. It is believed to have gained a hold here through the agency of clover seed, with which it was mixed.

REUNION OF 161ST. INDIANA VOL. INF.

The fourth annual reunion of the 161st Indiana Volunteer Infantry, of which Company H, of this city, was a part, will be held in this city on Thursday, September 14th. A full attendance of the regiment is expected. In the regiment were companies from Columbus, Richmond, Jeffersonville, New Albany, New Castle, Monticello, Hammond, Michigan City, Shelbyville and Rushville. Fully 1000 people are expected to be present. It will be a big day for Rushville. The merchants are expected to decorate their business rooms and it is desired that all co-operate in making the day a grand one.

The meetings will be held either at the court house or in Melodeon hall. There will be an excellent afternoon program and at night a camp fire at which Congressman Watson and ex-Governor Winfield T. Durbin, who was colonel of the regiment during the Spanish-American war, will speak. The public is cordially invited to attend these meetings. The program has not been fully arranged and a meeting will be held next week for the purpose of completing arrangements.

Game Wardens Going After Alleged Violators of the State Laws.

Kokomo, Ind., Sept. 2.—Game Warden Smith, of Logansport, has been in Howard county for a week investigating the alleged dynamiting of the waters of several ponds along Wildcat creek. He has arrested Fred Burgen and Ol Evans, farmers, living near Greentown, charging that they dynamited a pond in Liberty township on the night of Aug. 19, killing not only all the fish, but the frogs, turtles and other creatures the pond contained. Burgen and Evans are much worried. The minimum fine that can be imposed for killing fish with explosives is $250, and may be $1,000, in addition to which a jail sentence may be imposed.

Lewis Johnson, of Greentown, was arrested for having in his possession a bass less than ten inches in length. He entered a plea of guilty and was fined $30 and costs. The game warden says he has evidence against several other persons in the Greentown neighborhood, and that there will be more arrests.
